Senior Frontend Engineer · Adabra

Jun 2024 – Oct 2026

Remote · Dubai, UAE · promoted from Associate · Stackly case study

- Owned the Pages, Funnels, CRM reporting and Clients/Projects modules of Stackly, an all-in-one agency platform (websites, funnels, CRM), in React, Vite and TypeScript, from component design through review, QA and release.
- Introduced Redux Toolkit platform-wide, replacing scattered localStorage state with one predictable store.

- Shipped 30+ page templates and 17 funnel step types on one shared editor core, plus a Projects/Clients editor.
- Integrated LLM generation into the builders: prompt-to-page (standard and 3D layouts), section generation and file/image context, opening output in the same editor so users keep full control.
- Built the CRM reporting suite: 10 report types, 8–10 step builders (filters, metrics, 5 chart types), dashboards.

- Turned TryHackMe content specs into 40+ interactive cybersecurity training sites (HTML, CSS, JavaScript), picking a mechanic per topic: an x86 emulator, SIEM and firewall simulators, quiz games.
